City of Pleasant Hill Names Michael Sporleder as New Building Inspector

PLEASANT HILL, Iowa – August 3, 2015 – Michael Sporleder has been named the new Building Inspector at the City of Pleasant Hill. Sporleder has a vast amount of experience in the construction industry, and assumed his position on July 27.

As the city's new building inspector, Sporleder will collaborate with builders and developers on inspections, nuisance abatement, and zoning enforcement. Sporleder will focus on inspections of public and private building construction and improvement work to assure the appropriate construction is completed in compliance with the zoning classification, codes, and regulations within the City of Pleasant Hill.

The City of Pleasant Hill's Building Official, Michael Pardekooper said Sporleder has already been a tremendous asset to the City. "As developments and inspections increase, his knowledge and ability to understanding the entire building process from start to finish will be crucial," Pardekooper said.

"The city has a great building department and I look forward to applying the experience I have gained to continue growing the City of Pleasant Hill Sporleder said." "I look forward to continue working with the contractors and developers to build relationships as they continue to expand within this developing community."

Sporleder earned a B.S. in exercise science from Iowa State University. Most recently, he worked at B&B Construction where he performed a variety of construction duties. Prior to B&B Construction, he worked at Mary Greeley Medical Center as a volunteer EMT.
