Pleasant Hill Police Reveals New Badge Design

PLEASANT HILL, Iowa – The Pleasant Hill Police Department revealed a new badge design that is easily identifiable with the City’s seal and is customized to match the patches on the officer’s uniforms.

“A police officer’s badge is the most recognizable feature of the uniform and a symbol of the community we serve,” said Police Chief Al Pizzano. “We wanted our badge to set our city apart from others in the metro and members of the department to wear them with honor, integrity while providing superior service to their community. Residents can now clearly identify members of the Pleasant Hill Police Department wherever they are because our new design and city seal.”

The badges identify each member of the department with their number and rank - officer, detective, sergeant, captain and chief. The new design is slightly larger, but certainly provides uniqueness to the Pleasant Hill community.
